

A COUNTRY GONE MAD

I am reading an article in the New York Times subtitled, “Obama says agency operatives won’t be tried for Methods now prohibited”.

Let me state the methods of torture that were being used by the C.I.A. and these methods filtered down throughout our prison system. By the way, when you have a psychopathic moron at the head of your government who makes it legal to punish unto death a person he suspects as guilty of a crime, that trait filters down into the body of that nation.

These are the methods of punishment they revealed, say nothing of those still kept secret.

Water boarding involved strapping a prisoner to a gurney inclined at an angle of 10 to 15 degrees and pouring water over a cloth covering his nose and mouth from a height of 8 to 10 inches for no more than 40 seconds. But a footnote in a 2006 memo made it clear that the rules were not always followed. Other forms of punishment – forced nudity, slamming detainees against walls, sleep deprivation, putting detainees in small box cages with insects. These tactics led to the death of some and mental and emotional injury that never is recovered – in other words, a ruined life. I might state also that these tactics were used on people before being found guilty of a crime.

And yet Obama says none will be tried for murder or personal injury or civil rights violation. This is a quote from our new president who seems as big a coverup as the last one. He called it a “dark and painful chapter in our history and nothing will be gained by spending our time and energy laying blame for the past”.

Now, considering that our prisons are full of inmates for parole violations, petty theft, and resisting arrest, I began to wonder what the hell has gone wrong with a supposed God-fearing country that adhered to the precepts of our founding fathers. “What we do to the least of our brethren we do unto Christ”.

The article goes on to state: The techniques of punishment were authorized beginning in 2002 and were among the Bushes’ administrations most closely guarded secrets.

The only hope for this sick nation is God Himself making His appearance in the conscience of every individual and they will look upon the One whom they have pierced.

God will judge the world in righteousness, not by the law. And everyone shall see Him. He is no respecter of persons. Our judgment will be doled out in accordance to what we have done to the least of the brethren. C.I.A., and all of Washington, and all of our state capitals, the jig is up and your day of living off the blood of the saints is over. He is even at the door. A new day of justice with the blindfolds off is dawning and we will see peace on earth, good will toward men; a nation humbled by the mighty holiness of our God.

Marie

Marie Kolasinski