

Letters from Prison

5/13/10

Dear Marie Kolasinski,

Greetings to you ma'am. I hope this letter finds you in good health and great spirits.

I must say I'm not much of the religious person. However I read one of your "Words of Life", book 8, I believe, and I found it quite interesting. I was wondering if you could send me other "Words of Life" books? And other literature (your writings in particular). I'm in need of some sort of uplifting material. My times are currently in another rough stretch. I can't imagine doing life for a sewing needle but that is the possibility that I may be facing. It's the early stages so we shall see how it plays out.

I never heard of your store before but from what I've heard and read, you and yours are doing a good thing. Do keep up the great work. You're helping those with no souls. Believe me, I know. Once I started reading the "Words of Life" something awoke within me. Can't really explain it nor put my finger on it but I'm different. Anyway, do take care of yourself and I hope to hear from you soon...

Sincerely,

Rome

Hello Rome,

Wow, your soil was just right for the word to go in and bear fruit. God has been faithful to uphold His part of the bargain He made with me. He told me to buy the field because the pearl of great price was in it and you are that pearl, of great price. Well, I am buying the field with my gospel and He is anointing it with the Holy Spirit so it is birthing those who are ready for the harvest. What a glorious time and what one helluva time.

We have eight books and will send them one at a time as you write.

Your new family, the Piecemakers send their love,

Marie
