The Resurrection

Now before you read this, if your goal, like Paul's and Jesus' and the disciples and the Piecemakers, is not to come into the resurrection, pray tell me, what is your goal?? And also, if that is not your goal, we are writing to you in vain. Now for the lesson.

Matthew 22:28 – “For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.”

Luke 20:35 – “But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage. Neither can they die any more; for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.”

Now let us ponder these scriptures. I would venture to say that every person on earth that has any believe in a god or in God thinks he is a child of God. However, the scripture says those of the resurrection are the children of God. The rest are bastard sons.

Well, my dear friends, there is nowhere in the scriptures that says that we go to heaven. For we have heaven right inside of us as a mystery and in seed form. All is there and it is up to us to bring heaven forth.

We have inmates coming to us and they are all gung ho to get the goodies Piecemakers offers and when they find out they have to be planted into His death to get rid of their con artist, crooked ways, they bail. “Oh,” they say, “this is worse than prison,” and they go back to their vomit like the pigs. And yet, in Romans 6:5 Paul is giving us a road map into the resurrection. “For if we have been planted together in the likeness of His death, we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection of the dead.”

Paul's, cry, his goal, his motive for living – Philippians 3:10 – “That I may know Him and the power of the resurrection, and the fellowship of His suffering, being made conformable unto His death. If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.”

Now, how many of you know that spiritual pain is as excruciating or even more so than physical suffering for there is no pill that can be taken. And yet Paul makes this statement which has been proven true in my life. There is fellowship in His suffering, there is understanding in His suffering, there is compassion and kindness with those who have suffered the suffering of losing their old life.

Jesus' first commandment. Leave your nets and follow me. That means, leave your possessions. They are just that. They possess you. Then He says leave your family, your friends, your job, your old life. They are all nets that keep you bound. As you go into the ground and die, all else fades away as you turn to ashes as a prelude to the resurrection. Now in the resurrection you are a new creation, glorifying God and not self. Things of the world that seemed so important now are a vague memory. For what we once loved, now we hate. Nothing of the world tempts these children of the resurrection. He owns nothing but has all things.

Easter is a pagan holiday and we have a little bunny as our idea of the resurrection. How disgusting is the human race. We all go to church and sunrise services and do not really believe in the resurrection. Phony bastards, full of dead man's bones.

The glorious sons are beginning to shine proving God to be true to His word.

1 Corinthians 15:21 – “For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.”
